Study Groups

- a. Classes already have virtual study rooms set up for collaborative work between students
- b. Students get support to help them through difficult virtual education while retaining some social aspects
- c. Breakout rooms allow students working on different issues to separate and continue discussing
- d. Teachers have access to the study rooms but only through their own dedicated breakout Rooms

Hangout Groups

- a. Allows students to connect virtually and continue to socialize
- b. Promotes meeting new students, allowing new groups like freshman to become part of the community
- c. Fun activities like games allow users to relax and wind down
- d. Streaming content is also possible, so they can watch videos, listen to music, and share photos
